

Menace to Neutral Ships By Kaiser's Zone Policy Is Considered by Cabinet

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Section Director.

3 big, fat, white
Norway Mackerel 1.00

SAFE CONDUCT ASSURED BELGIAN RELIEF SHIPS

Identified by Large Banners, Six Relief Vessels Near the War Zone.

New York, February 19.—Safe conduct for all relief ships bearing the flag of the commission for relief in Belgium has been promised by England, France and Germany, according to an announcement made today by Lindon W. Bates, vice chairman of the commission.

Six relief ships will today either be approaching the war zone, or are the Wabana, from New Orleans; Great City and Aymoric, from New York; the South Point, from Philadelphia; the Strathair, from Portland, Me.; and the Washington, from Seattle.

In addition to flags and steamers bearing the words "commission for relief in Belgium," each ship has banners 100 feet long lashed to either side and bearing the same inscription in large letters.

Washington, February 19.—American Minister Whitlock at Brussels notified the state department today that foodstuffs consigned to him by way of Holland for distribution to the civil population of Belgium, upon his admitted free of duty through Antwerp, London, Rotterdam and other ports, had been given only at Brussels.

Mr. Whitlock's message said "instructions have been given to the intermediate agents that the delivery of the supplies in question be effected as quickly as possible, without delay on the part of the customs house."

"Thus for shipments entering in bulk via Petit Laquis, destined for Liege, a state department statement explained, and for such shipments as are liable to customs formalities in the latter city, clearance will be made under seal, without escort."

According to another report from Mr. Whitlock, the German military authorities at Brussels issued an order some time ago exempting from military requisition not only foodstuffs imported into Belgium from abroad for the civil population, but also foodstuffs and cattle imported by the Belgian national relief committee.

GERMAN-AMERICANS FOR THE U.S. FIRST, SAYS BARTHOLD

Washington, February 19.—Representative Barthold, of Missouri, made his farewell speech in the house today, denouncing "the newspaper campaign against Germany."

"In our present demands against England," he said, "our only alternative is either to give in or to declare war." The threat of an embargo on arms, however, quickly would bring the millions of the seas to terms with war.

"The steadfast devotion of citizens of German blood to American ideals and the flag," Mr. Barthold declared, "if unfortunately the United States were again should be embroiled in war, which Heaven forbid, the Germans of this country would again loyally rally around the Stars and Stripes."

The president recalled the close friendship between the two countries and the confidence with which they had worked together for the maintenance of peace as justifying him in his opinion.

"It is true," added Mr. Polk, "that our military and naval arrangements have complete liberty to your majesty's government."

OPPOSED TO FEDERAL MANUFACTURE OF ARMS

Washington, February 19.—Secretary Garrison today told a delegation of the women's peace party, headed by Mrs. W. Le Follette, that he is opposed to their plan for nationalization of the manufacture of arms.

Mr. Garrison said that as different nations have unusual facilities for manufacture of arms, the result might easily be that the United States would find itself at a great disadvantage if thrust into war, unless there was private manufacture.

"War Sure if Germany Thinks England Will Not Intervene"

—POINCARÉ TO KING GEORGE

London, February 19.—Correspondence between President Poincaré of France and King George of England just before the outbreak of the war was published here today. In a letter dated July 21 President Poincaré expressed the opinion that "war would be inevitable if Germany were convinced that the British government would not intervene."

"There would be the greatest chance that peace would remain unbroken," if Germany were convinced that the British government would intervene.

"It is true," added Mr. Poincaré, "that our military and naval arrangements have complete liberty to your majesty's government."

ITALIAN WAR RIOTERS DISPERSED BY TROOPS

Rome, February 19.—Troops with fixed bayonets today dispersed several crowds favoring Italy's participation in the war in the city of Rome.

The center of the city was occupied by troops and several arrests were made.

Indirect allusion to the international situation was made by the speaker in an address before the chamber of commerce in commemoration of the war.

"The center of the city was occupied by troops and several arrests were made."

SIR ROGER TO PRESENT CASE AT CHRISTIANIA

Berlin, February 19.—(By Wireless.) Items given out today by the Overseas agency include:

Representations made to it have agreed to prevent movement of Russian ammunition by way of Saloniki, Macedonia, and to prevent the sale of Dutch ports all British steamers which, during these days, are being used by Dutch steamers bound for America.

The Cologne Gazette reports that Sir Roger Casement soon will go to Christiania and submit proofs against the British minister to Norway, Mr. de C. Findlay, and the Norwegian government.

DRIVEN FROM PALESTINE, 27 JEWS REACH NEW YORK

New York, February 19.—The twentieth twenty-seven Jews in charge of Rabbi Bernard Levin, who were driven from Palestine by Turkish troops, reached New York today.

His party had gone from the United States to Palestine in connection with the movement of the Jews to the land.

No Corruption Probe.

Washington, February 19.—An attempt to reconsider the decision not to investigate charges of corruption in the state of Illinois and other states, failed today in the U.S. senate.

SAVES FROM GALLOWES, He Dashed for Liberty And Was Shot to Death

Ottawa, February 19.—News of an unusual tragedy in northwest Canada reached here tonight. Romolo Casari, under sentence to be hanged at White Horse, Yukon Territory, for murder, attempted to escape and was killed by a constable who was guarding him.

RUSS DEFEAT SEVERE, CLAIMS BERLIN REPORT

Berlin, February 19.—(By Wireless.) Further details of the German victory of the Maunin lake, East Prussia, make it apparent that the Russian defeat was a severe one. Military officials here doubt whether Russia remains of about five Russian army corps, which were engaged.

SAVES WAR DIRIGIBLES HAVE PROVED FAILURE

Washington, February 19.—After Secretary Walcott of the Smithsonian institution, had reminded the house in the war zone today, that Samuel P. Langley was the first man in the world to make a heavier-than-air machine fly, his country was lost of all in development of aviation, a resolution was reported authorizing the president to appoint an advisory committee of scientists to work on aircraft development.

The clearing of the Austrian crown prince, Franz Ferdinand, who was also taken by German officials to other extreme views.

Prentiss Describes the Work Of U.S. Chamber of Commerce

The directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in special session for the purpose of hearing from Mark O. Prentiss, field secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America on the work which this organization was doing for the business and commercial interests of the country.

Robert F. Maddox, Vice President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Introduced Mr. Prentiss and told of the splendid results obtained at the third annual meeting of this organization recently held in Washington.

J. R. A. Hobson, national councillor of this organization, also spoke enthusiastically of the work which this organization was doing.

"Reserves" No Longer.

Paris, February 19.—General Joffre today issued this order of the day: "Now that the reserve regiments have acquired splendid fighting ability, they henceforth will be put on the same basis as the active men."

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

Atlanta—New York—Paris

Opening a New Season of "Pretty Clothes" for Girls and Misses

---In the Junior Department, Third Floor

New things have full possession of the Junior Department. And they make it about as bright and interesting a spot as could be found in a day's search.

The New Coats--The New Dresses--The New Hats

that we've gathered for the young folk show the smartness of the moment's style. Everything seems so fitting for the children and young women. There's a freshness and novelty about the styles that is rather hard to describe, but that a woman, a mother, sees at once as attractive for the young people. Styles are keyed to a note of becomingness.

We want both the mothers and the young people to take today to sense, through their eyes, what we can but vaguely tell of here.

We warrant it will be a pleasant and interesting time that you spend in the Junior Department.

Coats for Girls

Sizes six to fourteen years

$5.75 to $15

Clearly they are different from those we've grown accustomed to. This difference is most frequently a matter of a waist line. They have brought it very high up and very, very frequently they've marked it with a belt.

Checks are favored—regulation shepherd checks, bigger checks in black and white and brown and green and white, while there are many navy and Belgian blue serges and a number of mixture weave coats in the sand shades—these are often sports coats.

Coats for Girls

Sizes one to six years

$3.50 to $12.50

Even these are distinctive from the regulation styles we know.

Serges, shepherd checks, mixtures, taffetas, moires; Empire style, belted. The little flat collars and cuffs of many are of pique or dimity.

And the new colors for them, too! Sand, Rocky Mountain blue, Russian green, battle-gray.

School Dresses

Sizes six to fourteen years

$1 to $5

Gingham as bright as May day and styles—any number of them, that mothers will exclaim over.

Why, they've given the smartest little overskirt to the children this spring and they've put little velvet bands on them and they've made them French in a thousand ways. One is long-waisted; one is high-waisted; all are lovely.

Girls' Hats

Sizes two to sixteen years

$1.50 to $12.50

Inexpensive hats for school wear, smart street hats—the Tommy Atkins shape, straw turban, satin crowned, soft "pull down" hats for afternoons—ready.

A Sale of Waists

An Early and Splendid Opportunity to Save on the Waists That Every Woman Needs in the Spring

At $1.00 Were $1.95, $2.25, $2.45 and $2.95

At $1.65 Were $3.50 and $3.95

Waists for almost every purpose. Plain shirts of handkerchief linen, of dimity, of fine white madras. Others lose their tailored severity to narrow edges and insertions of Irish crochet.

Then come the waists of voiles and organdies, embroidered and trimmed with Venise edges and Cluny medallions. Low and V necks, with and without collars. Slightly soiled from handling.

Arrived! New Veils

Ask to See the Novel
"San Pan"
Veil

As attractive a collection as one could wish to see at values there were superb at their original prices.

Waists of plain and hand-embroidered handkerchief linens, many show tiny tucks in front and back, many show the use of hand crochet with edges and insertions, long sleeves, with embroidered cuffs and collars—finished with crochet and pearl buttons.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

25-27 E. Alabama St.

Suits & Overcoats Specially Priced In Three Groups

$12.50, $15, $17.50

See these to appreciate the absolute money value in the purchase. The good style and perfect quality of the suits and overcoats in this sale make the possession of such clothing at these prices doubly worthy your attention.

$18.50 and $20.00

Suits and Overcoats $12.50

$22.50 and $25.00

Suits and Overcoats $15.00

$27.50 and $30.00

Suits and Overcoats $17.50

One Special Lot Suits Half Price

All Fancy Vests Half Price

Carlton Shoe & Clothing Co. Whitehall

36

JUST A FEW DAYS LONGER

--and the opportunity will have passed for buying the Highest Grades Men's Suits and Overcoats at Reduced Prices--

It's well that you should bear this in mind--and make the best of this last appeal--

In buying Suits and Overcoats from this Store you buy such with a reputation of the highest standard--Suits and Overcoats of such character as will make you feel confident of their Style--their Quality and Service expected--

Special grades in high-class $25, $27.50 and $30 Suits--Choice $17.75.

General range of excellent Suits and Overcoats--$20 to $40 values, now from $15 to $30.

Special Sale on Shirts, Underwear and other fixings--Men's and Boys' Shoes--

Big Lot Boys' Suits at Half Price--and other special attractions in Boys' Section--

Parks-Chambers-Hardwick

37-39 Peachtree Company Atlanta, Ga.

Now that Lent is here and sea food becomes a frequent article of diet for the ensuing 40 days, you will want more variety.

We have sea food of every kind in season, and in generous abundance. We have never had a better showing of fish and shell fish of all kinds.

Here are a few of the good things now in the market:

Shad Shrimp
Smelts Lobsters
Deviled Crabs
Oysters Scallops

Then there are all the other popular fish such as Trout, Mackerel, Pompano, Snapper and many others.

Now that a fish diet is in order, you will not only find it cheaper than meat, but better.

Get guaranteed fish from us and you will enjoy them.

Fulton Market

25-27 E. Alabama St.

THE CONSTITUTION
Established 1865.
THE STANDARD SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER
Published Daily, Sunday, Tri-Weekly
CLARK HOWELL,
Editor and Manager
Directors: Clark Howell, Robert Robinson,
Albert Howell, J. R. Black, H. W. Grady,
J. H. Holliday, J. B. Black, H. W. Grady,
Telephone Main 5000.

Entered at the postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

POSTAGE RATES:
United States and Mexico,
10 to 15 cents per copy; 10 to 25 cents
per month; 25 to 50 cents per quarter;
50 to 75 cents per half year; 1.00 to 1.50
per year, in advance.

ATLANTA, GA., February 20, 1915.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By Mail in the United States and Mexico,
10 to 15 cents per copy; 10 to 25 cents
per month; 25 to 50 cents per quarter;
50 to 75 cents per half year; 1.00 to 1.50
per year, in advance.

J. H. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole Advertising Manager for all territory outside Atlanta.

The address of the Washington Bureau is
No. 1127 S. Street, N. W., Mr. John Corrigan, chief correspondent in Georgia.

The Constitution is not responsible for statements made by out-of-town local correspondents or agents.

FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

The hundreds of crippled children in Georgia whose parents are unable to afford treatment for them are now to have a chance for straight bodies and limbs and a fair start in life. The organization of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry has taken over the project, long agitated, and insured its beginning. The action is thoroughly characteristic of the practical philanthropy of this organization. The institution will soon begin its beneficent work. While the Masons have inaugurated the enterprise, and will throw their influence back of its continued success, help from the outside must be relied upon to place the project upon a basis of permanency to the full scope of its possibilities. It is emphasized that the institution and its activities are to be entirely non-sectarian in character, and that only children whose parents cannot afford treatment for them will be admitted. Many individuals not connected with the Scottish Rite have signified their intention to contribute to the endowment and general support of the home. Few philanthropists advanced of recent years in Atlanta have been of a more peculiarly appealing nature than this one. The child who is crippled is handicapped in life at the very start. Not only is it handicapped in the matter of health, but in the more delicate matter of mingling with other people in business or society, it is bound to feel itself set apart.

Many of these malformations, inherited or the result of disease, science can either wholly cure or distinctly ameliorate. Surgeons in Atlanta are willing to donate their services where it is shown the parent is unable to pay. The establishment of this institution means, then, ultimately a square deal for hundreds of boys and girls in Georgia. The high-hearted men and women who have worked with patience and perseverance toward the end sought deserve much credit. Such work is genuinely constructive.

RELIEF FOR PALESTINE.

Jews and Gentiles of Atlanta are to be given a direct opportunity to mitigate the intense suffering from lack of foodstuffs in Palestine, stories of which have been told from time to time in The Constitution. On March 1 the naval vessel, Vulcan, will sail for Palestine. The United States Government has granted the American Jewish Relief association space on the vessel for 300 tons of food supplies.

In Atlanta the work is in charge of Isaac H. Haas, both phones 25. The time for relief is short. In time to reach port and be laden. Atlanta's quota must be made up in four days. It is emphasized that flour, sugar, rice, tea and coffee are the most acceptable donations. If foodstuffs are not available money will be accepted and invested to the best end.

All creeds should rally to this real opportunity for service. Those wishing to participate should communicate direct with Mr. Haas.

One of the characteristic and beautiful racial traits of the Jews, wherever placed and under whatever circumstances, is their quick response to real need. They were among the foremost in the relief of the Belgians. Their charity, in this country, is always without creed or the boundary of sect. It is natural they are answering spontaneously the call of their brethren in Palestine. And peoples of all creeds, remembering the example set by the Jews, can do no better than to follow their lead. The need is desperate and urgent.

KEEPING OUR HEADS.

Any one who fancied the United States would escape being even secondarily involved in the European war, is now brought face to face with the crisis with Germany and the lesser crisis with England, the two in a way being co-related. Despite Germany's repeated statements to the effect that she had an abundance of foodstuffs, the British blockade is already pinching the German stomach. England is drawing the cordon more remorselessly and Germany is preparing to retaliate by making all neutral shipping unsafe in waters surrounding the British Isles.

It was inevitable that a great world war, such as ours, exporting munitions of war and foodstuffs and with a population drawn from virtually all the belligerents, should sooner or later feel a "fire-back" from the confederation which is engulfing all the older nations. What will be precisely the outcome of the war, prophecy cannot fathom.

One thing is certain: This nation has passed through enough crises, major and minor, to appreciate the need of keeping its head cool in the face of all circumstances. We have thus far enjoyed a position of peculiar advantage by reason of being detached, politically, from the great strife. It would be a calamity if we had to forfeit that position, and there is now no binding reason why we should do so. European diplomacy is astute, but it has been demonstrated before that American diplomacy, even of the "shirt sleeve" variety, can hold its own with all comers.

The situation, on this side, is in safe hands. In the meanwhile, pending developments, it is time above all others for us to keep our heads.

BOUDOIR STATESMEN.

Years ago some was made a reputation by declaring that when Kansas couldn't raise anything else it raised h—, and a tolerably prolific crop, at that. It had been the modern impression that college and agricultural education, bona fide prohibition and other blessings had brought Kansas into the fold of the commonplace. But a bill recently proposed by a Kansas legislator opens doubt if Kansas isn't in danger of reverting to freemasonry. For here comes a law and a solemnly proposed to make it a misdemeanor for any woman in Kansas under 45 years of age to wear earrings or use combs.

Of course, this freak bill will go the way of numerous others of its kind in the various states. As a rule there is enough sanity in the average legislative body to put a damper on fool proposals.

But the type of mind back of the bill is discouraging, to a slight extent, as indicating the type of men we still send to legislative bodies. Will the various state legislatures never become satisfied to leave women's attire to fashion-makers, and confine their energies to affairs of real statecraft? We wonder!

It is not strange that legislatures come in for more or less discredit and ridicule when they harbor men of such frivolous, petty and mediocre minds. The country already suffering from a glut of legislation, we are plagued with the busybodies who are ambitious to achieve bouboir statesmanship.

"SWATTING" THE TIP.

The Nebraska house of representatives has joined other venturesome bodies in the belief that it could put an end to tipping by law. At any rate, a statute has been passed by the house outlawing the practice, with strong probabilities of finally going on the statute books.

After the law is passed, if it is, we shall see what we shall see. Anti-tipping laws are plentiful as falling leaves in autumn and as weighty: No one has yet discovered a way to enforce them. Mississippi, if we mistake not, has such a law now on her statute books, and a solitary attempt recently to enforce it ended in a miserable failure. Other states have made similar experiments to get nowhere. State organizations, cafes, etc., have tried out the anti-tipping plan, but except in a negligible number of cases, and they not typical, a solution universally applicable has not been found.

It is trouble with public sentiment, and if we want to put an end to tipping with the unpleasant servility and humiliation it entails, it is public sentiment we must educate. No summary law ever was known to be enforceable unless it had back of it the support of the community.

A valuable contribution to the literature of the civil war is the exhaustive Roundabout Report, compiled and published by the Battle of Gettysburg commission under the authority of the state of Pennsylvania. The volume gives a complete review of the historic events staged at the reunion of blue and gray at the battle site. It is abundantly provided with maps, illustrations and photographs and is printed on heavy book paper. As a collection of data that bears upon an event that looms large in the history of American re-nationalization, the volume is of unique significance.

The efforts to keep everything dark is conclusive evidence that they are all fighting for a place out of the sun.

A pessimist is one who doesn't move, and that's the case with a damage unit if prosperity should run over him.

JUST FROM GEORGIA
Frank L. Stanton
A Winter Farewell Reel.
Enter now the Joytime!
Gray winter jackets
his grip.
He gets a parting blessing:
"Good-bye, winter, good-bye to the trip!"
Take your blizzards with you and your regiments of snow.
But first we'll turn the fiddle for a hand-around as you go.
(Read the fine blain!)

The farewells time in view.
But the roof we will be rained!
In a thunder-shit with you!
Enter now the Joytime! The winter-fires you made
With home-sweet warmth and cheerfulness threw out of the shade.
And all the stories that you told—we ask not were they true?
O Winter, for your heart of gold, just one more whirl with you!

(Keep the fire blain!)
There is a mighty current today towards the roof we will be rained!
The roof we will be rained!
We'll dance our friend away!

WHAT DO I CARE FOR THE WAR?
STEP LIVELY
THESE "AGENTS!"

Great sympathy is being expressed to the editor of The Adams Age, in a serious loss he sustained recently.
During the first spring-plowing of the season we wrapped our Sunday shirt in a small package which we took to the field with us and laid on a stump well within our eyesight as we plowed back and forth, being resolved to take no more chances leaving valuable things around loose; and what else you reckon happened? No more but this Sunday shirt was stole before our eyes, with ends and tails hanging from the neck, and the words of a great writer, who exclaimed: "O, the desecrations and villainy of man! For certainly it was a man that stole our shirt—no woman would do such, we don't think. Alas, that there should be such in our civilization!"

The Life-Attitude.
James Wells, The Printer-Poet of The Nation Times, has this lyric with the true human touch:
"I made a failure of life today:
For a little child went by
With a tear-wet cheek, and I did not speak
to work 'em up to high spirits."
"I made a failure in life today:
For I met a man who was down,
And I turned away, nor my steps did stay,
To work 'em up to high spirits."
"I made a failure in life today:
With the poor I walked the road,
When the rich came by and with them went I,
And left the poor with their load."
The "All Over Arkansas" man of The Arkansas Gazette heads his Wednesday's column with this:
"The greatest progress we have yet made toward becoming an automobilist is the acquisition of language suitable for use in case of punctures, blow-outs and the like."

A Pinch of Philosophy.
He looked so fine and full-content.
Great was the crowd that gathered 'round him.
Can't help 'em to run the government.
An' that's why I reckon it goes h— I bent down and I am a checker-plain!"

House of Commons.
Some folks would be thankful for the seasons the Lord sends if they didn't have to work 'em up to high spirits.
There's always room for happiness, and the greater when we feel that we're entitled to it.
Some spend a lifetime gaining the habit, only to complain that thunder is an unpleasant thing to hear. Don't stay long enough to light 'em to bed.

The Little Sweetheart.
The violets are dreaming
Of the smiling and the knowing.
Their rivals are the roses
That love Spring's Sweetheart so.

In the Bremen Gateway.
The Bremen Gateway slight trouble and gives thanks for prosperity in these words:
"If corn bread causes pellagra, we are glad as growers as it is entirely out of the question to eat biscuit, but, as of old, on Sunday mornings."
"After off the wall of a freening editor who was telling me that the world was despite the biting cold and miserable roads, he hasted here with the word that burned as brightly as with W. G. O'Connell's life."

To an Early Nockling.
In thinking Spring will surely be to very early.
He's singing now the very song
That he forgot the summer.

Fashion Comment.
"What has happened to the old-fashioned woman who jumped on a chair and lifted her skirts and ran across the room the floor?" asks The Modern News, and Dalton Clifton replies: "Still with us, but he skirt is so tight she can't jump on a chair."

Only in Dreams.

"To only in sweet, sweet dreams,
Our friends who've gone before
Return to us, and we are
From the other shore."
Just as the life it is to be
Just as the life it is to be
Just as the life it is to be

What Oiler Meant.
Editor Constitution: In an editorial Wednesday morning, February 17, you speak of "Oiler" as a theory "crude and base" and "not to be taken seriously." I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken seriously. I am a citizen of Georgia as well as on the page allotted in Oiler's "semi-humorous" speech.
I was my own man, and I am present and to hear Dr. Oiler's now celebrated speech to the Georgia people.
I refer to what he said was wholly humorous.
No one regretted more than Dr. Oiler did that he was laughing at the Georgia people. The playful remark was made as a sort of parting shot, and it was not intended to be taken ture bill and after he had told of the assault on Patrick, made the statement about the danger of taking bills into some of the negro houses.

DR. OGDEN'S
Morning Message
11 A. M.
"Your Task and Mine"
CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Opposite Capitol

Inc.
OF

S!
ER STOCK
S apped Up!
1/2 Price

Winter Weight
Mixtures
TS
..... 1/2-Price
..... 1/2-Price
..... 1/2-Price
..... 1/2-Price
..... 1/2-Price
White Duck
Coats

$1.00 values
now..... 75c

Overalls

$1.00 and
$1.25 values..... 75c

Men's Hats

All Fall and: Winter Soft and Stiff Hats,
1/2 Price

Velour Hats

Remainder of our imported Va-four Hats, $5 and $6 values,

$1.65

Men's Shoes
 One lot Men's $5.00 shoes, mostly small sizes, $1.50

Shoe Trees
 One lot $1.50 Shoe Trees,
50c

Department
A SPECIAL
Boy Scout Outfits

Boys' Underwear
One lot Boys' Underwear—shirt and Drawers—worth up to $1.50 per garment—per garment—
25c

MORRIS.—The friends of Mr. Dan Morrison and Mrs. E. C. Williams are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Dan Morrison Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of his wife, No. 906 W. Main st., Co.'s chapel, Interment West View cemetery.

BRAY.—The friends and relatives of Mr. Benjamin A. Bray, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bray, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bray, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. G. Taylor, of Calhoun, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Benjamin A. Bray Saturday, February 28, 1915, at 2 p. m., from the residence of Mr. W. T. Edgar, 323 Crew street, St. Mary's Major will officiate. Informations may be obtained from the following gentlemen: are requested to act as pallbearers and meet at the chapel of A. O. & Roy Donohoe, 257 N. Second street, at 12:30 o'clock.

D. Webb, Mr. J. N. Edgar, Mr. Oscar Jacobs, Mr. J. R. Evans, Mr. R. C.

Monday, February 22, George Washington's birthday, is a legal holiday. The banks composing the Atlanta Clearing House Association will be closed for business on that day.

DARWIN G. JONES, Mgr. and Sec.
JOHN K. OTTLEY, President.

Before Breakfast

On an "empty stomach" regularly dur-

60 Neal Institutes in Principal Cities

ATLANTA TONIGHT, 8:15.
ALL THE WEEK.
Matinees Tues., Thurs., Sat.
BALDWIN-MELVILLE CO. IN "CAMILLE"

Atlanta's Busy Theater is Very Busy.
FORSYTH MATINEE TODAY 2:30
 EVENINGS AT 8:30
A BILL OF STAR FEATURES

Wilson's Clothes
ARE GOOD—VERY GOOD

STORAGE
Our modern, sanitary warehouses were built for the storage of household goods and pianos. Inspect them.
John E. Woodside Storage Co.

BANKRUPT SALE
Stock of DRY GOODS, SHOES, Ladies' and Men's Furnishing Goods

Pursuant to an order as passed by the Honorable Eugene Spradlin, Referee in Bankruptcy in the Northern District of Georgia, at Carrollton, Ga., in the matter of J. Grodzinsky, Bankrupt, I will offer for sale the stock of merchandise at Douglas Auburn avenue, Atlanta, Ga., stock invoices $249.26 and fixtures $148.50, total $398.76, and the stock of merchandise at Jackson, Butts County, Georgia, invoicing $2,977.09 and fixtures $388.55, total $3,365.64. Merchandise at Jackson consists of shoes, $1,006.81.

in front of the store at No. 21 Auburn avenue at 2:30 p. m. and at Jackson, Butta County, Georgia, on Thursday at 11 a. m., February 25th, 1915. I will offer for sale the accounts due said bankrupt at Jackson store on the February 25th, 1915, aggregating about $3,000.00. ^{There is} cash and all bills

305 Chamber of Commerce Building,
Atlanta, Ga.
Shirley Boykin, Carrollton, Ga., and
J. H. Leavitt, Atlanta, Ga., Attorneys for Trustee.

Large Stock of Gen-

and Fixtures

GEORGIA—Greene County:
Pursuant to an order, as passed by
Hon. Frank L. Upson, Referee in Bank-

notions, ladies' and men's furnishing goods, trunks, farming implements, etc., invoicing about $14,000, and fixtures $1,863.50, total $16,000. Sale will be at public outcry in Greensboro, Ga., on Tuesday, February 23, 1915, at 3:30 p. m. Terms, cash, and all bids subject

Lewis, Davison & Lewis, Greensboro, and Walker & Roberts, of Monroe,
Ga., Attorneys for Trustee.
